Bar Set Up

Alcohol Inventory Process

All Puff 'n Stuff Catering supplied alcohol must be cross checked against the Alcohol Inventory Sheet (AIS). This sheet may be attached to the event's alcohol cart or the pack sheet. Before bar set up can begin, your Event Supervisor will complete a physical inventory of all beer, wine, and liquor product onsite and cross check the physical inventory count against the information provided on the AIS.

Before Set Up

- Your Event Supervisor will initial off on each correct starting inventory listed.
- Your Event Supervisor will record any discrepancies in the outgoing alcohol inventory column.
- Alert your Lead Bartender and Event Supervisor to any missing product as soon as possible in order to allow for enough time to provide additional product before the function begins.

During Service

- Save all empty liquor and wine bottles and store in liquor boxes or containers underneath your bar until the conclusion of service.
- Save all beer caps during service in order to complete and record final tallies on consumption sheet.

During Breakdown

- Send ALL empty liquor and wine bottles back on the event vehicle at the conclusion of breakdown. Discard beer caps after completing the inventory and do not send back to PnS. They are for inventory tally purposes only.

PUFF 'N STUFF CATERING

- Your Event Supervisor will complete a physical inventory of all remaining beer, wine, and liquor product. He/She will initial off on each correct ending inventory listed.
- The completed Alcohol Inventory Sheet will be attached with all consumption sheets to be turned in to the warehouse for a final incoming inventory count.

Bar Table Set Up

1. Set 6' table.
2. Ensure that both table legs are securely locked into position.
3. With a partner, set the table up right into position.
4. Drape base linen on the 6' table. Check that the linen is even on all sides. No table legs should be visible.
5. Repeat steps 1-3 to set bar table on the top of the 6' table.
6. Drape the linen the full length of the front of the bar and tuck any additional linen underneath the back of the bar top.
7. Repeat steps 1-6 to set the 6' bar table on the top of the 6' table.

Bar Station Set Up

1. Your Event Supervisor will inventory your alcohol and ensure all correct product and quantities have been sent.
2. Distribute alcohol product, mixers, and glassware to bar after inventory has been completed.

3. Distribute ancillary bar set up items to each bar to include: bar kits, cocktail napkins, bar fruit, candles.
4. Line (1) plastic ice tub with (1) trash bag. Wrap ice tub in designated black linen as determined by SEO to cover. Use the black ice down tubs to chill your beers, white wines, and sparkling wines.

Restocking The Bar

A small inventory of mixers may be placed underneath your bar for easy restocking. All alcohol should remain in the back of house on a cart to be distributed by your Event Supervisor or an assigned server or bar back to restock when necessary.

Any glassware that must be replenished at a bar should ALWAYS be delivered on a cocktail or football tray lined with linen napkins. Glass racks, carts, and any other back of house equipment are not permitted to be transported through the front of house after an event begins.

Bar Procedures

Open Bar Procedures

Open bars allow the client to pay a per person fee for all alcohol and non-alcoholic beverages served.

Guests are free to enjoy beverages from the bar at their leisure. There is no charge for them to drink.

Cash Bar Procedures

Cash bars allow the guests to purchase beverages independently throughout the event. Clients may choose to host some of the beverages for the guests or only non-alcoholic beverages. Please refer to your Event Supervisor for these details during your bar set up.

Puff 'n Stuff Catering only accepts credit card payments at our cash sale bars. This is clearly communicated to our clients during the proposal process. Please do not accept cash purchases at your bars.

Each bar is assigned a cashier to perform the credit card transactions for all bar sales. Coded tickets will be assigned for each type of beverage offered at the bar. The cashier will be responsible for using a hand held tablet and the square app to ring in all bar sales. In some instances, the bartender may be responsible for managing their own transactions.

The cashier will write the abbreviated code on the back of the ticket for the bartender to reference. The guest must bring the ticket to the bar in order to be served.

How To Use The Square Credit Card Reader

1. All CREDIT AND DEBIT CARD transactions will be conducted using the Square app.
2. Turn on the tablet using the power button on right hand side of device. Press the button firmly to power on.
3. Plug square device into headphone jack on the top right corner of the device.
4. Click on the tablet's square register app.

FOR CREDIT & DEBIT CARD TRANSACTIONS:

1. Swipe credit card from left to right with stripe facing away from you.
2. Ask the guest to for their signature. The guest will have to physically sign the tablet screen with their finger. Press the continue button.
3. Ask the guest if they would like their receipt emailed or texted to them. If yes, allow them to enter their information on the screen.
4. The "Thanks! You're All Done." screen indicates that the transaction has been authorized and completed.
5. After all transactions have been completed, return the square device to its box and place the tablet back in its case. Return both items to your Event Supervisor..

Bar Service

Serving The Guest

- Always serve ladies first when taking a couples order and then serve her companion.
- Always offer a cocktail napkin on the bar top, then place the drink on top.
- Do not wrap beer bottles in cocktail napkins. Instead, remove excess water by discretely placing the bottle on a folded bar towel. Then, quickly wipe the bottle before placing on top of a cocktail napkin with label presented towards guest.
- Always ask if they would like a garnish in their drink, unless it is a specialty cocktail. Always use the picks provided to handle any bar fruit.
- Follow specialty cocktail recipes exactly as provided in order to ensure consistency!
- Servicing Wine
 1. Place cocktail napkin on the bar top.
 2. Place glass on napkin.
 3. Pour "Aim to fall" with the label not covered by your hand (if you cant comfortably reach, pour in front of you on lower bar and then move to top bar).
 4. Twist to bottle quart turn clock wise to catch drip or wipe with napkin.

Liquor Policies

POUR STANDARDS

- Liquor: 1 ounce
- Beer: 12 ounces
- Wine: 5 ounces TIP: Minimum of 5 pours from a standard bottle

- Champagne: 5 ounce TIP: Minimum of 5 pours from a standard bottle
- Champagne Toast: 2.5 ounces TIP: Minimum of 10 pours from a standard bottle
- Shot: Never

SHOT POLICY

Puff 'n Stuff Catering has a "no shots" policy. Please communicate with your Event Supervisor if you have any questions about liquor service.

UNDERAGE DRINKING

It is unlawful for any person to sell, give, or permit to be served alcoholic beverages to a person less than 21 years of age.

Puff 'n Stuff Catering bartenders must check guest ID's to ensure that all guests served are of legal drinking age.

Tip Jars

It is against company policy for tip jars of any kind to be placed on, or around any bar at a Puff 'n Stuff Catering event.

There is to be absolutely no soliciting of tips, under any circumstances.

If a guest offers gratuity at the bar, politely decline the offer. If the guest insists more than once, politely accept the tip and store in a clear glass out sight from the guests.

Liquor, Beer and Wine Service Without The Worry

The law requires that a server make a reasonable effort to prevent intoxication in customers, prevent alcohol sales to minors, or to intervene if a customer does become intoxicated.

We ONLY accept a state issued license, passport with photo, or state issued identification card or military ID card with photo. We do not accept library cards, birth certificates, social security cards, notes, or school IDs even if the school ID has a picture and date.

Some examples of reasonable effort include:

- Do not serve "shots", "neat", or martinis separated into several glasses.
- Check ID's on all guests under 30. Look out for underage guests, council any adult that is offering them liquor and if necessary, cut off that adult.
- Do not serve more than one drink to a person at a time.

- Attend a bar service training annually.
- Suggest alternative beverages such as soft drinks, coffee, tea. Offer food such as table snacks, hors d'oeuvres, meals.
- Alert the rest of your team that this person has been cut off to avoid service at another bar.
- Encourage participation in available activities like dancing, venue tours, etc.
- Count drinks, know how many drinks you've served to the guest, and look for behavioral and physical cues of intoxication.
- Offer to call a cab.
- In absolute emergencies dial 911. In all instances notify your Event Supervisor immediately.

If suspicion arises then use the FLAG system below:

FEEL

- Have the customer remove ID from wallet
- Flick the edge of the ID
- Feel edge of photo.
- Check for pinholes, glue lines, bumps.

LOOK

- Check the font, expiration date, and colors of ID
- Does the picture match? Is there a ghost photo?
- Look for seals on laminate.
- Check for UV security features, holograms, and the back of ID.

ASK SAMPLE QUALIFYING QUESTIONS

- When is your birthday?
- What is your address?
- What is your middle name?

GIVE BACK

PUFF ‘N STUFF CATERING

If the ID passes your screening process, give it back to the guest and complete the service. If it does not pass, give the ID back to the guest, but inform all staff not to serve the individual.

Glossary of Bar Terms

Some people believe that bartending is merely pouring booze into cups and giving it to people. Shame on them. Bartending is a legitimate skill, one that has procedure and form that must be learned if success is desired. This is a glossary of basic bar terms, and knowledge to get you ready for service. But remember, it's better to do something once than to read about it several times. So get out there and pour!

Wine

There are many different types of wines. Wine is classified by the type of grape (or grapes) grown to produce that wine, where those grapes are grown, and the process the winemaker goes through to produce that wine. Here are the different types of wines defined by grape type. A grape type is also called a varietal.

Red Wines

Cabernet Sauvignon (Cab): Aged well, intense aroma and flavor.

Merlot: Low acidity, mellow softness.

Pinot Noir: Smooth, drinkable young wine. It has light to moderate body with delicate and deliciously varied aromas and flavors.

White Wines

Chardonnay: This type of grape grows anywhere, so many differences in variations, flavors and acidity. Most chardonnays are full, golden and velvety with hints of fruit, nuts, butter, oak, spice or vanilla and have medium to high acidity.

Pinot Grigio: Light, crisp and refreshing flavor All Pinot Grigio/Gris possess a citrus aroma.

Riesling: Sweet German wine Riesling has medium to high acidity and light to medium body with a distinct flowery, fruity aroma.

White Zinfandel: It has low to moderate acidity and medium to full body with jammy, spicy flavors. Guests may request as rose' or blush.

Champagne: Is a sparkling wine produced from grapes grown in the Champagne region of France; other common names for sparkling wines are Prosecco or Cava.

Liquor

What is difference between bourbon, scotch and whiskey?

Bourbon is an American whiskey that's made primarily of corn. Other ingredients include wheat, rye, and barley. The grain is fermented, distilled and then sealed in barrels. It's aged in charred oak barrels for a minimum of two years (most are aged for four or more years). All bourbon is whiskey, but all whiskey is NOT bourbon. Popular brands include:

- Jim Beam
- Wild Turkey
- Knob Creek
- Maker's Mark

Scotch is whiskey that is made in Scotland. To be considered a scotch a whiskey must meet these criteria (from the "Scotch Whiskey Order of 1990"):

For the purpose of the Act "Scotch whisky" means whisky—

- Which has been produced at a distillery in Scotland from water and malted barley (to which only whole grains of other cereals may be added) all of which have been—
 - Processed at that distillery into a mash;
 - Converted to a fermentable substrate only by endogenous enzyme systems; and
 - Fermented only by the addition of yeast;
- Which has been distilled at an alcoholic strength by volume of less than 94.8 per cent so that the distillate has an aroma and taste derived from the raw materials used in, and the method of, its production;
- Which has been matured in an excise warehouse in Scotland in oak casks of a capacity not exceeding 700 liters, the period of that maturation being not less than 3 years;
- Which retains the color, aroma and taste derived from the raw materials used in, and the method of, its production and maturation; and
- To which no substance other than water and spirit caramel has been added.

Popular Brands Include:

- Chivas Regal
- Dewars
- Johnnie Walker

Whiskey is a broad term that covers a variety of spirits that are fermented from barley, rye, wheat, and corn and aged in oak barrels. The term whiskey includes Irish whiskey, scotch, bourbon, and others.

Popular Brands Include:

- Canadian Club
- Crown Royal
- Jack Daniels
- Seagrams 7

Beer

Distinguished between ale and lager based on the processing of the ingredients.

Ale has a brighter, rich, more aggressive, hoppy flavor, and often has a higher alcohol content as well. (top fermented). Example: Budweiser

Lager has a smooth and mild flavor with a clear, clean finish (bottom fermented). Example: Yuengling/ Stella

IPA (India Pale Ale) a pale ale with a distinctively high alcohol content and a notably elevated amount of hops, creating a very aggressive, sharp, bitter beer.

Stout is characterized by its dark color and heavily roasted flavor.
